

Message From The Chair: The March For Science Saturday April 22, 2017

I'm marching for science on Saturday April 22, 2017 in Washington, DC, to ensure that knowledge derived from scientific investigation is included in policy deliberations. I invite you to join me by meeting at AAS offices before the march [1]. Can't make it to DC? Explore satellite marches [2] across the US and world wide.

Consider participating in the AAS's social media campaign [3] by writing one or two sentences about why science is important to you and include a picture.

Hope to see you at the march!

Lucy McFadden
DPS Chair
