

COVID-19 Resources

The DPS is curating resources for members of the planetary science community affected by the COVID-19 [1] university closures and meeting cancellations. Please contact the DPS Webmaster [2] with any additional resources. Thank you to all who have contributed!

For Job Seekers

- Since opportunities for in-person networking are scarce, here's a way to help connect job seekers with potential employers. If you're looking for a job in planetary science or a related discipline, please fill out this form [3] to add your name, contact information, and skill set to this list of folks looking for jobs. Employers, if you're looking for talented DPS members to hire, please peruse this list [4]. Thanks to Prof. Sarah Hörst for setting up the form and spreadsheet.
- Job seekers and employers are encouraged to browse DPS's job listings [5] and advertise open positions [6].

For Online Teaching

- AAS's list of curated resources [7] for moving astronomy classes online.
- Spacepod [8]: 100 interviews with planetary scientists, tagged by topic.
- If you are a Subject Matter Expert and willing to give a virtual talk on your area of expertise during this time of COVID-19 induced social-isolation, feel free to volunteer [9]. If you are an educator or just want to check out the inputs go here [10]. Email comments/questions or additional resource links to smecovid19@gmail.com [11].
- Skype A Scientist [12] is opening up to families now rather than just classrooms. Sign up here [13].
- CIRTL workshops on transitioning to online teaching [14], including one for TAs and support staff. There are also pre-recorded versions available at their YouTube channel [15].
- Compilation of educational resources [16] that are now free due to school closures.
- This English grammar and spell checker [17] is free to use and doesn't require registration

For Research Activities

- Telescope operating status information [18].
