COVID-19 Resources

The DPS is curating resources for members of the planetary science community affected by the COVID-19 [1] university closures and meeting cancellations. Please contact the DPS Webmaster [2] with any additional resources.

For Job Seekers

- Since opportunities for in-person networking are scarce, here’s a way to help connect job seekers with potential employers. If you’re looking for a job in planetary science or a related discipline, please fill out this form [3] to add your name, contact information, and skill set to this list of folks looking for jobs. Employers, if you’re looking for talented DPS members to hire, please peruse this list [4]. Thanks to Prof. Sarah Hörst for setting up the form and spreadsheet.
- Job seekers and employers are encouraged to browse DPS’s job listings [5] and advertise open positions [6].

For Online Teaching

- AAS has a list of curated resources [7] for moving astronomy classes online. Thank you to all who have contributed!
