

TRICK OR TREAT AND TELESCOPES

Art from Clipart Panda

Put out your telescopes on Halloween!

The Division of Planetary Sciences (DPS) of the American Astronomical Society is encouraging all its members to stage a telescope viewing on Halloween Eve, during Trick-or-Treat time. Put your equipment in your own lawn or a neighbor's lawn (with permission) with better viewing.

Good views for 2019 include a setting Venus, a crescent Moon that sets around 10:00 with Jupiter nearby, and Saturn. See <https://earthsky.org/tonight/moon-goes-by-jupiter-on-halloween>

Please send comments and pictures of your events to bonnie.buratti@jpl.nasa.gov